BALANCING MIND & BODY

The endocannabinoid system is like a large motherboard of switches turning on and off, all with a collective purpose; homeostasis. Humans, and many other animals, rely on this system for balancing many areas of their health, including pain-sensation, inflammation, mood, memory, appetite, and more. Introducing phytocannabinoids to the endocannabinoid system may:

- Clear “foggy” head feelings
- Promote improved focus
- Diminish stress and agitated feelings
- Promote unbroken sleep
